Letter from the Editor

Jane C. Puskas, DMD, MPH

As editor of Keynews, I had the opportunity to learn about the incredible projects undertaken by our fellows and could not help but be impressed by the impact of the ICD on the dental community. Your ICD district supports the MCG White Coat Ceremony and provides leadership awards. We send students to France and are growing to support student exchanges in China and Peru. So many dental students in the southeastern U.S. have incredible opportunities because of the ICD. You can get involved by hosting a student or by attending one of the great events.

The Great Expectations Program, which strives to strengthen the relationships of our fellows with dental faculty and upper class dental students, will provide opportunities for even more of our members to become involved. We have a unique opportunity to share in local and international dental collaborations. It is becoming more of a global fellowship as our members travel abroad. I encourage more fellows to serve as a dental ambassador as Paul Kudyba, who traveled to Brazil, under the J. Richard Moulton Trust. The ICD provides financial support and incredible opportunities for international collaboration and learning. Nominate new fellows at www.usaicd.org. Take advantage of the ICD and become involved.
